

The Seven Pillars of Faith and Work

Interest in the faith-at-work movement is at an all time high. More and more people are searching for how they can be the same person on Monday that they are on Sunday. Companies are beginning to ask not “if” and “when”, but “how” do they enable their employees to bring their belief system with them to work. And, many churches are beginning to hear the dull roar from their congregation that they need help in equipping their work lives just as they do their personal lives.

But, the questions most often asked are “How do I do it? Where do I start? What are the crucial areas to focus on?”

The Seven Pillars of Faith and Work is the product of many years of personal experience, listening to hundreds of men and women and their issues in the workplace, and from deep prayer on this subject.

Our prayer at WorkMatters is that you will explore your work life in each of these seven strategic areas. We encourage you to pray and read the Bible to discover where and how you can embrace these Pillars to help you bridge the gap between your faith and your work.

Seven Pillars of Faith and Work

1. Relationship – personal and growing, first with God and then with others.
2. Integrity – wisdom and courage to do what’s right, every time.
3. Excellence – work with all your heart.
4. Influence – be intentional with the impact you have on others at work.
5. Service – lead strongly through serving others with humility.
6. Calling – align your gifts, skills and experience with your vocation.
7. Balance – create sustainable work/life equilibrium.
