STUDIES

Workmatters Studies are started and facilitated by people like you in companies, coffee shops, libraries, churches and other meeting spaces that are convenient to the workplace. They happen year-round. They have and are being done in over 19 states and many locations. Below is a short list of contacts who are currently planning a study. It is NOT all-inclusive.

For more information about getting a study started in your company, or if you're planning a study and would like to be listed as a contact, contact Catherine Gates.
